GREAT ENTHUSIASM MARKS COURSE OF PURCELL'S CAMPAIGN.

The meeting held on Saturday last at Amethyst was one of the most enthusiastic of the present campaign. It was attended by both sexes and the audience paid close attention to the speeches of both the candidates and J. S. Mavor.

Mr. Armstrong presided and introduced the candidate to the electors.

Mr. Purcell devoted his speech to the Government work during their term of office. His long residence in this district makes Mr. Purcell a very competent critic in this direction.

He referred to the promises of roads, bridges, buildings and the land, and one other pre-election pledge of the Sifton Government and they pointed out the amount of work accomplished finding the balance overrunning in favor of their promises. The farming community he said could not progress, and neither could they, however, outside under the dominance of a government which consistently repudiates its pre-election pledges.

The anti-promises of the Sifton Government was the House of Commons, whose ability to place clever pledges of improvement for highways, waterways, and other public works, without any real work, was only excelled by the ability in shelling those same pledges when he and his beloved "left Arthur" were actually installed for another term of office.

Mr. Purcell then referred to the Government continued indifference to the needs of the community in the matter of telephones. Such things as these he said were part of the Liberal Government's record of office and such would continue to be their system while the electors failed to realize their duty to the community at the poll.

The greatest strength of the British Empire has been its ability to adapt itself to the needs of the community, and this has been the result of the Liberal Government's policy, and he hoped that this would be the result of the Liberal Government's policy, and he hoped that this would be the result of the Liberal Government's policy.

Mr. Mavor who followed declared that with the work of the Legislature, and particularly with regard to the Cow Bill, which he characterized as an ignominious scheme to catch votes, but which in the main was absolutely worthless to the farmers, inasmuch that the Banks are able and willing to handle any and all that particular kind of business without imposing any of the restrictions which the government seem to deem necessary. The suggestion of cheap borrowing was always attractive to some farmers, but the fact that, inasmuch as he had been able to gather and he had covered the riding through the scheme was not being adapted by any farmer in this locality would seem to show that the electors had been able to see through the whole scheme.

The also referred to the disgraceful condition of the roads and asked why the electors would stand such a vast amount of money to be spent in building the roads to Bow City over which people one vehicle a day might travel while in this riding the conditions were such that at times it was impossible to travel at all. Good roads are a vital necessity to any community, and should be one of the first considerations of the Government, instead of which, we may find a road going to work for a day or so every week, but then they will disappear until next election day.

The meeting closed with an immense vote of confidence in Mr. Purcell.

OPEN LETTER.

To The Electors,
An Alberta Provincial election will be held on Thursday, June 7th. As you are aware I am a candidate for election to the Legislature as an opponent of the Sifton government. It is my earnest wish that you give me your whole-hearted support.

My policy is founded on the belief that there should be greater economy in the administration of the financial affairs of the province in order that we may be saved from excessive taxation. The Sifton government is spending a large portion of the provincial revenue in financing railroads into the Peace River country to serve private interests and enrich personal friends. This must be stopped, or we shall have the unpleasant experience of paying direct taxes to the government in addition to those we already pay.

I believe there should be a sound business administration at Edmonton, and that large sums should be spent throughout this part of the Province in building good roads and bridges and extending telephone lines for the benefit of our farmers. In my opinion any government that neglects our roads and bridges is deserving of the severest censure. The government has been in power for twelve years and you know as well as I how the Sifton government has neglected our crying need of good roads and bridges, yet on the eve of this election we are asked to support a Government simply because I promise to do better.

Surely we shall not be misled again!

Our Wild Land tax (over $600,000 last year) should be used in building free rural hospitals for the benefit of those families who live many miles from adequate medical aid.

My whole energy if elected will be devoted to serving you so well that you will desire to re-elect me at the end of my term.

I live here with you, my interests are here, and I sincerely trust that you will make a special effort to support my plan on June 7th and support me home man.

Women have the right to vote in this election and I particularly wish to merit their support.

Yours Faithfully
E. F. PURCELL

BASEBALL

VS. GLEICHEN.

On the 24th of May the Gleichen Ball Boys arrived in town with a matched team and with bells on. The day started well but at two o'clock, just as the game was to begin old Purcell saw a brilliant opportunity to have some sport and spread a slight sprinkle of rain over the grounds, but the boys looked so wild that the tap was soon turned off and the game was started.

The first two innings went to the victors as our boys seemed to find it hard to find the ball. But with the score 3-0 in favor of the visitors the boys took hold and in the fourth and fifth innings scored three runs, the fifth being scored by a home run. Everything looked rosy but in the seventh the visitors came back and pulled in three with two hits. "Tip" as our boys did they could not get over the three and the score stood 5-3 when the last ball was thrown.

VS. GEM.

On Sunday the 27 the Bassano boys and their best supporters journeyed out to Gem with the idea that they were to have a easy game but things went wrong. The Gem boys slammed the old pill out of the lot and got away to a good lead.

In the lucky seventh our boys came back and took the lead by one run, but not to maintain it, the eighth was full of pop and the first two men had took three swipes and set down, but the third man put back a healthy swing and was on safe. Second man up smashed over into second base and on a fumble made the sack. Then came Burrows with his own game to win and with a slap out to right field brought over two runs putting the Gem boys one run ahead. The next man finished the list and the score stood 7-6. Rogers led to bat, got safe, Currie followed, hit and advanced Rogers. Two on; Craig was out of luck, then came McCaughey, but also was caught in difficulties. Forbes followed and the men on bases stepped to bring over the needed runs. Burrows was afraid of Bill and passed him up with four straight balls. Three on and one run needed to tie, Culbertson up, but Culbertson, old boy was all in and Burrows pulled himself out of a tight hole in the last of the eighth with three strikes out.

This makes two games won, and two lost for the boys but with a new pitcher and Craig on second and Woolmes on third the prospects for getting back into a winning line looks better than ever. All the boys want is the support of the fans until they get going and they will show some good ball right away. At present they expect to play Gem on our own grounds next Sunday.

Wonderful place Bassano. After barely a week's residence here we have been taken for a drummer. Editors as a rule can be distinguished a mile away by their hungry look and further even when they are soliciting ads. or collecting buns.

The C.P.R. are still bringing in lots of land buyers from across the border. Most of them are well pleased with the prospects of Bassano district and are purchasing land within easy reach of town.

The Editor wishes to apologize for not having called upon the business men to make their acquaintance, but he trusts that those who have not yet shaken hands with him will help him out of his hole by trotting round to the Mail Office with their next week's ad. in their hand. Subscribers also please note.

Mr. Gray received a letter this week from her husband, who is at present recovering from the awful battering which he received at Vimy Ridge. Though terribly out about he writes in a wonderfully optimistic strain and declares he is doing nicely, thank you—not in short of smoke. (We receive subscriptions to the Herald Tobacco Fund: so.)

A NEW USE FOR DUCKS

A case of exceptional interest was presented to the Town Hall on Monday last when Louis, the proprietor, of B. C. Restaurant was charged with having an excessive quantity of liquor upon his premises, and apparently with having the goods, in abundant quantities, found on or about him.

The evidence for the prosecution consisted of 78 bottles of Chinese whiskey, which Constable Duxton found deposited under a duck's nest, the duck, by the way (although not charged with, being an accessory to the fact) placidly assisting in the concealment, while apparently assisting in the procuration of progeny. The bottles were buried a spare length deep under the duck's nest, and an ingenious arrangement was contrived by which the lively liquid could be obtained without disturbing the serenity of Mother Duck.

The evidence was considered sufficient to justify a sentence of two months imprisonment in default of a fine of $200.00.

Louis will thus have ample time to "hatch" up other schemes by the time his sentence expires.

THE BASSANO CELEBRATION

A meeting of citizens was held in the Town Hall on Monday to discuss arrangements for the Dominion Day celebration.

WHO?

THE old-fashioned cry of party politics is fast losing its appeal to the electorate of to-day and most broadminded politicians welcome the change. The thoughts of serious and earnest electors are devoted to the consideration of the personal character and record of the individual rather than that of the party to which he may belong. To-day the integrity of a of a candidate is the main plank of his platform. The extension of this principle will soon eliminate the absentee representative, for how else can the elector obtain an accurate or even approximate estimate of a candidate's moral worth, except by close personal contact.

The wholesale disclosures of corruption during the past few years has brought about the change for the people realize that their only hope of ever obtaining straight, clean and honest legislators is by choosing from their own communities representatives whose character is unquestioned.

The choice lies, then, not between parties but men. The issue is thus simplified. On the one side we have a man whose personality is the reflex of the Liberal party and whose integrity is cast in the same lines, for it is not a fact that the Hon. Chas. Mitchell is known to the great majority of his constituents only by his connection with the Sifton Government. On the other side we have a man who is known throughout the length and breadth of the constituency—a man who has been eminently successful in his business career and above all a man whose integrity is above reproach.

Mr. Purcell's whole interests are closely bound up in the welfare of the constituency he seeks to represent; he has lived here as long as the oldest settler, and therefore has a deep personal knowledge of the needs of the Bow Valley district.

It should not be a difficult matter for the electors to decide which of the two candidates would be likely to serve their interests best, for it is evident that Mr. Purcell, from his intimate knowledge of the constituency, must undoubtedly prove the better servant of the people he seeks to represent.

On the seventh then let us cast our vote for the man we know, and know we can trust, and who understands the utmost needs of the whole constituency.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE BOSS OF EMPIRE

RECOGNITION OF SELF-GOVERNING DOMINIONS

Readjustment of Constitutional Relations
Of the Empire may be Considered at a Special Conference
To be Held Immediately After the War

The colonial secretary, Right Hon. Walter Hume Long, has issued a statement respecting the views of the imperial war conference, together with some of the resolutions adopted by the conference. It states that some of the matters are of the most confidential character and that the publication of the resolutions and the details upon which they will probably be impossible until after the war.

However, decision was unanimously reached in the resolution which are now publishable. On no occasion was it necessary to divide or to withdraw a motion, because agreement could not be reached.

The conference welcomed the increase in the number of territorial commissioners and recommends that the governments concerned co-operate especially for the promotion of imperial trade.

It records the view that the 1901 imperial conference resolution be amended so as to provide for the representation of India in all future imperial conferences, and that the present treaty of the empire be amended to provide for the representation of India in all future imperial conferences.

It prays that the king constitute by royal charter an imperial general commission on the lines proposed by the Prince of Wales in his speech.

The conference expresses the opinion that a resolution of the empire should be adopted which should be important and intricate subject as to constitutional relations of the commonwealth parts of the empire.

It Didn't Come in a Day

War Only Precipitated Present Day Conditions

Farm Progress

The present conditions relative to farm production and the consumption of foodstuffs have been largely developed along the war broke out. For several years, the Canadian centre has been built up in the city, and it is now being broken down. It has been higher in the city than the attractions of urban centres served to draw the population to these centres and to hold their trades here crowded, and our farms soon began to show the results of their under-manned condition, and the farmer had his most serious problem to solve, namely, the labor problem. He hired men when he could get them, until the wages got so high that he figured the hired man cost him the profit from the increased production, so he decided to leave the hired man, because there is considerable risk in growing crops and more risk as to prices and, as any business man would be sure to do, he turned to the land and after a few years he was able to get a profit without the hired man. He is not so sure that a profit would result from the hired man, but he is not so sure that a profit would result from the hired man, but he is not so sure that a profit would result from the hired man.

After the War

Aviation for Civil and Commercial Purposes

The announcement was made in the British house of commons by Major John L. Baird, representative in the house of the Air Advisory Board, that the government had decided to appoint a committee under the chairmanship of Lord Northcliffe, to investigate civil aerial transport after the war.

This, he said, would permit of the employment of the large number of skilled pilots and the airplanes in the service of the public, as well as of the still larger number of well-trained, the construction of which is under way or planned.

Major Baird said, the committee would be asked to consider the employment of the large number of skilled pilots and the airplanes in the service of the public, as well as of the still larger number of well-trained, the construction of which is under way or planned.

People and Government

When the German People Know Who Is to Blame for the War

It is doubtless true, as the German newspapers say, that the German people do not know who is to blame for the war. A government that controls all the news sources is able to keep the people in the dark. There probably are few Germans to whom it does not seem that the war was forced on them, against the earnest wishes of the government, and that the government stands by and concedes by a horde of enemies.

One of these days the people are going to learn of the frantic efforts made by the rest of the world to substitute arbitration for war in the close days of July, 1914. The residents of Serbia to meet almost impossible Austrian demands for the proposal of Sir Edward Grey.

When the real facts are understood it will be strange if an accounting is not called for by the people who have had to bear the brunt of the war against those who brought it on. —From the Kansas City Star.

Why Americans Enlist So Slowly

They Want Lots of Cash and They Won't Take Their Chances

Annelies Burrows writes as follows in the Detroit Free Press: "The war has been going on for over a year and yet the number of Americans who have volunteered for service is not what it should be. The reason for this is that Americans are not willing to take their chances. They want lots of cash and they want to be sure of it."

All Europe has become panicky about, says special London report.

Germany is most scared among the combatants, says Spoin and the Scandinavian countries are only less alarmed. The whole continent has suddenly been aroused to the realization that starvation is possible long before a military decision can be reached.

The government-inspired German press is holding out assurances that "England is on the verge of starvation and it is certain to collapse for want of food in a few weeks, regardless of military conditions." The German general staff is issuing the most preposterous misstatements regarding the military situation to convince the people that military conditions of secondary importance.

In both regards the German government is leading the people out into the new crop is harvested. Britain faces the necessity of looking out until the new crop is harvested. The British government is not so concerned because the interned German people, however, is a great source of the dominant factor in the transport situation.

Nevertheless Great Britain is getting a most needed scare about the fact that nearly every grain in the world is being hoarded in Germany. France are moving heaven and earth to show such a military preponderance that they can afford to ignore the fact that the German general staff is issuing the most preposterous misstatements regarding the military situation to convince the people that military conditions of secondary importance.

Spain and Scandinavia confront a grim prospect, because their economies are based on agriculture, and with the conditions, and the United States is not so concerned because the interned German people, however, is a great source of the dominant factor in the transport situation.

Parisians have begun to get a most needed scare about the fact that nearly every grain in the world is being hoarded in Germany. France are moving heaven and earth to show such a military preponderance that they can afford to ignore the fact that the German general staff is issuing the most preposterous misstatements regarding the military situation to convince the people that military conditions of secondary importance.

The Municipal Hospitals Act

How to Incorporate a Hospital District and Provide for Operation of a Hospital

Under the Municipal Hospitals Act passed at the recent Session of the Legislature, the Minister of Municipal Affairs is authorized to divide the Province into Hospital Districts. He is also charged with the responsibility of supplying plans, specifications, estimates, advice on site and management and such other assistance as he may be able to give. The bringing into existence of a hospital district depends upon the initiative of the people.
When only one municipality is concerned, all that is necessary to initiate action is a petition signed by twenty-five electors and agreed to by the municipal council.
When more than one municipality is concerned, the consent of the other council or councils is necessary, as well as the consent of the electors within the municipalities. The preliminary work being done, the council shall appoint a hospital board. In the case of one municipality undertaking the work, the board shall consist of three members of the council and three electors outside the council. When there are two municipalities in the proposed district, each council shall appoint three representatives, one being a member of the council, and two electors not councillors. When the appointments are made the names are sent to the Minister in a letter, containing the place and date of meeting for organization. The board has power:

To appoint such officials as may be necessary and to fix the amount of remuneration;

To determine the site and arrange for purchase of same;

To arrange for the acquiring or erection of a suitable building;

To make arrangements with any existing hospital, if preferred, to undertake the establishment and maintenance of a nursing institution;

To engage medical practitioners and nurses;

To arrange for financing the hospital, the preparation of estimates, etc.; the municipality providing the money, as for other municipal enterprises;

The levy for capital expenditure shall not be higher than two mills on the dollar.

As soon as the plans are approved by the Minister of Municipal Affairs, the council shall prepare a by-law for submission to the electors, which must be voted on within three months.

For full information as to how to organize and conduct a Municipal Hospital under this Act, apply to

JOHN HENRI

Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs, Edmonton.

TO POULTRY KEEPERS

Today poultry keeping is a systematic pursuit permitting of research and subject to experiment the same as any other branch of agricultural industry. A letter aid to the very foundation of poultry keeping could hardly be desired than a bulletin recently issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture entitled "The Principles of Poultry House Construction" with General and Detailed Plans. R. C. Elford, Indian Point, Saskatchewan, is the author and in the 56 pages of which this publication consists, he has succinctly told, with abundant illustrations, how poultry can be best housed and what is needed in that respect to make the birds good producers.
